Financial Policy

Thank you for choosing Women's Healthcare Associates (WHA). We appreciate your trust in us as your healthcare provider. To ensure transparency, we'd like to outline your financial responsibilities.

- Insurance Coverage: As a courtesy, WHA will submit claims to your insurance provider. However, you are ultimately responsible for paying your bill. Co-pays are due at the time of service. You will also be responsible for any deductible, co-payment, co-insurance, or services excluded from coverage according to your insurance plan.
- Payment of Fees: For certain services, a deposit may be required. Additionally, WHA charges a fee for completing forms, such as FMLA and disability paperwork. Payment is due when the form is submitted for processing.
- Billing and Payment: Unless other payment arrangements have been made with a WHA financial representative, any remaining balance after insurance processing is due upon receipt of your first bill. We offer flexible payment plans to assist with outstanding balances.
- Discounts for Uninsured Patients: Discounts may be available for full payment on the date of service. WHA also offers financial assistance for qualified uninsured patients.
- Separate Billing: Please note that you may receive separate bills for services provided by third-party providers, such as laboratory, anesthesiology, radiology, hospital services, and surgical assistants.
- Accepted Payment Methods: WHA accepts payment by cash, check, MasterCard, Visa, American Express, or Discover. A $25 fee will be charged for all returned checks.
- Past Due Balances: If your balance remains unpaid, it may be referred to an outside collections agency, which could result in suspension of further medical care or prescriptions with WHA.

If you have questions about our financial policy, please contact one of our financial representatives at 503-601-3623. We appreciate the opportunity to serve you.

Genetic Privacy Statement

This notice informs you of your right to decline participating in future anonymous or coded genetic research.

Women's Healthcare Associates, LLC Is requlred by Oregon law to provide this notice to you regarding use of your health information or biological samples for genetic research. State laws protect the genetic privacy of individuals and give you the right to decline to have your health information or biological samples used for research. A biological sample may include a blood sample, urine sample, or other materials collected from your body. You can decide whether to allow your health information or biological samples to be available for genetic research. Your decision will not affect the care you receive from your health care provider or your health insurance coverage.

Research is important because it gives us valuable information on how to improve health, such as ways to prevent or improve treatment for heart disease, diabetes, and cancer. Under Oregon law, a special team reviews all genetic research before it begins. This team makes sure that the benefits of the research are greater than any risk to participants. In anonymous research, personal information that could be used to identify you, like your name or medical record number, cannot be linked to your health information or biological sample. In coded research, personal information that could be used to identify you is kept separate from your health information or biological sample so it would be very difficult for someone to link your personal information to your health information or biological sample. Your identity is protected in both types of research.

Your decision is effective on the date your health care provider receives this form.

If you have any questions or concerns about this notice, please ask to speak with the practice manager at your healthcare provider's medical office. No matter what you decide now, you can always change your mind later. If you change your mind, tell your healthcare provider your decision in writing by filling out a Genetic Privacy Opt out Form and giving it to your healthcare provider. If you change your mind, the new decision will apply only to health information or biological samples collected after your healthcare provider receives written notice of your new decision.

_____ I do want to have my health information and biological samples available for anonymous or
Pt Initial coded research.

_____ I do not want to have my health information and biological samples available for anonymous or
Pt Initial coded research.

Notice of Referral Rights and Acknowledgment

This notice describes your referral rights when your health care provider refers you to another provider or facility for additional testing or health care services.

In accordance with Oregon law, when you are referred for care outside of our clinic, Women's Healthcare Associates, LLC is required to notify you that you may have the test or service done at a facility other than the one recommended by your clinician.

Oregon law says (ORS 441.098):

- A referral for a diagnostic test or health care treatment or service shall be based on the patient's clinical needs and personal health choices.
- The patient has a choice and when referred to a facility for a diagnostic test or health care treatment or service the patient may receive the diagnostic test or health care treatment or service at a facility other than the one recommended by the health practitioner;
- If the patient chooses to have the diagnostic test, health care treatment or service at a facility different from the one recommended by a practitioner, the patient is responsible for determining the extent of coverage or the limitation on coverage for the diagnostic test, health care treatment or service at the facility chosen by the patient.
- A health practitioner shall not deny, limit or withdraw a referral solely because the patient chooses to have the diagnostic test or health care treatment or service at a facility other than the one recommended by the health practitioner.

By signing below, I acknowledge that I have read and understand my referral rights as outlined above.
